

Three years of war in Iraq is three years too many.

On March 18 – the 3rd anniversary of the U.S. invasion of Iraq – send George Bush and all supporters of this illegal war a message:

End the War and Occupation! Troops Home Now!

Saturday, March 18, 2006

3:00 pm Union Park Rally | 7:00 pm Michigan Ave. March

Over ONE TRILLION dollars. That's the cost of the war in Iraq, according to a new report by Nobel-prizewinning economist Joseph Stiglitz and co-author Linda Bilmes.

Over ONE TRILLION dollars:

- to bankroll an ongoing war that has cost the lives of more than 2,200 U.S. soldiers and injured over 16,000 – including 7,000 with brain, spinal cord, amputation and other serious injuries.
- for an illegal invasion and occupation that have killed more than 100,000 Iraqi children, women and men – and maimed the bodies and memories of countless thousands more.
- that could instead be spent on vital needs like adequate health care, decent affordable housing, quality schools, college financial aid and job training.

Take a stand. Tell the government we want money for human needs, not corporate greed.
